Add your doctors and prescriptions

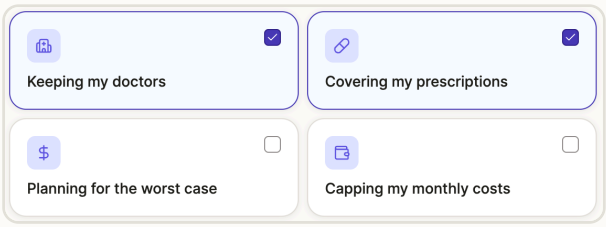
When you set your health priorities, you can add the doctors you see and the medications you take. We'll use them to show you what different plans might cost you for the care you already use.

Your information stays private

This information is never shared with anyone (your employer, your insurance company, etc.).

1 Choose what matters to you

Select Keeping my doctors and Covering my prescriptions. We'll only ask questions relevant to what you care about.



2 Add your doctors

Search for each doctor, specialist, or hospital by name and select them from the list. Use + and – to set how many times a year you see them.

Added the wrong one? Select Remove.

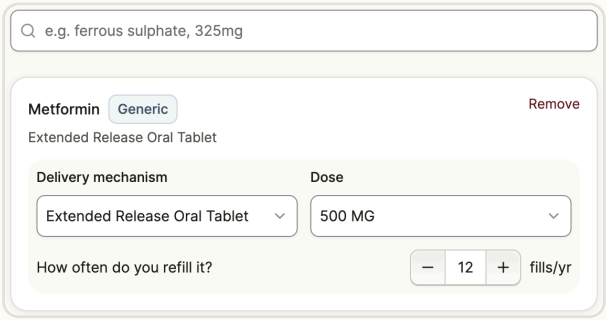
3 Add your prescriptions

Search by medication name. Choose the delivery mechanism and dose that match your prescription, then set how many times a year you refill it.

Include prescriptions for anyone on your plan.

> Tip: Keep your prescription bottle or pharmacy app handy. The dose and form are on the label.



4 Review and choose a plan

The plan at the top is your closest match, and you'll see exactly which of your priorities were used to build the recommendation. Below that, we'll show you two other good options.

Here you can still compare plans side by side or view the full cost breakdown. Finally select the right plan and click Next.

> Check your network: Select See cost breakdown and scroll to the bottom to see which of your providers and prescriptions are in-network on that plan.
